4 First consider the Big, Bigger and Biggest Challenges then consider joining...

The Big Challenge

The Trail Users

Why can't we all just get along...

Sometimes we can and sometimes we can't just get along...

The Bigger Challenge...
Management of Public Lands

Budgets, Rules, Regulations, Policies, Procedures, Personnel and all of us...

Memorandums of Understanding The “MOU”

- National Park Service
- U.S. Forest Service
- Bureau of Land Management
- The Wilderness Society
- American Horse Council
- Public Lands Service Coalition -21st CSC
- Numerous Local Agreements

The Biggest Challenge...

The Land and The Trails

Lots of Land and Lots of Trails

Lots of Land in acres

NPS	18,000
State Parks	42,000

BCCHA

5 Why we want You to join

To be a Part of a Bigger Cause because BCHA...

- keeps the trails open for everyone...
- brings over 40 years of experience...
- has been there and done that...
- helps to resolve some of the Challenges.
- And finally “Be part of a larger movement to save the trails for the horses and riders.”

Next Steps...

Back Country Horsemen of America

- Requirements to Become a BCH Organization
- Click here to download handbook\(pdf\)
- Forming a BCH organization is not difficult; however, there are a number of requirements. First, those interested in creating an organization must subscribe to the objectives and the purposes of the Back Country Horsemen of America as outlined on page 7. Those purposes do not preclude other interests, but a saddle club that may take an occasional trail ride is not a BCHA organization

There are two organizational classifications under the BCH mantle.

- A state organization is one or more membership chapters within a state, with a minimum of 40 members and no less than 15 members in any one membership unit. To become an official BCHA state organization, the members must ban together, approve by-laws, make application and receive formal acceptance from the National Board of Directors of BCHA. State organizations have voting rights on the National Board of Directors of BCHA.

There are two organizational classifications under the BCH mantle

- An affiliate organization is a single membership organization within a state which does not have an official BCH state organization. An affiliate must have a minimum of 15 members. To become an official BCH affiliate, a membership organization must make application and receive formal acceptance from the National Board of Directors of BCHA. Affiliates have a voice but no voting rights on the National Board of Directors.
